Thanks, Alex! I'm pretty sure people who are attending are traveling from Renton and Tacoma so far.
I'll be in touch if a ride turns up.

Hi! I could go tomorrow (Monday) but I need a travel buddy.

Hi friends

If anyone is up for attending tomorrow (Monday), that is especially needed/helpful. Resistencia is really low on support people tomorrow. Maybe Alex? Or others?

We also have Rosa and Eli on for Wednesday. Thank you!!

Katie

Hi all, I haven't been active in this group for some time, but I do have the capacity to be present one day this week.

I'm unclear exactly what our role is expected to be, as we can only stand outside, but happy to be a presence as asked. And to learn from La Resistencia how to be of further help.

Can I go ahead and put you all down for Wednesday? Sounds like Rosa and Eli could both be there!

Hi All,

I am still across the country with my father, but please let me know if there are specific ways I can help to spread the word.

Hi all! I'm continuing this thread just among our solidarity group to cut down on emails to the Resistencia organizers. Who is available next week and what days? Unfortunately I'm again probably not able to help in person.

We want to have a presence outside the detention center every day this week because we know this inspection is a sham. Detained people have been exposing the reality of the abysmal conditions inside for years, and just a few days ago we got word that dozens of folks inside were in quarantine following potential exposure to COVID-19. We need community's eyes on the facility this week to ensure that ICE/GEO can't use this inspection to legitimize their inhumane practices. We are hoping that partner groups like ADV will sign up to be outside the facility from 12-2pm one day this coming week. There will also be members of the Resistencia team on site every day, and we'll take care of messaging and visuals.
